Good afternoon. As per our discussion, a permit is not required to pull your heating oil tank for the following reasons:

1. The Florida Department of Environmental Protection (FDEP) explicitly exempts residential storage tank systems from the strict registration, inspection, and financial responsibility rules outlined in Chapters 62-761 and 62-762 of the Florida Administrative

2. On-Site Heating Oil Exemption: Residential tanks used solely to store heating oil for consumption on the premises are exempt up to 30,000 gallons.

Also, I have attached a copy of the manifest used for trans and disposal of the oil impacted soil.

Please let me know if you have any additional questions.

Thank you,

Teresa Nixon
